*FITCHBURG HIGH SCHOOL
Fitchburg, Massachusetts*

6/7/70 L.H.T.

Let me try to tell you about myself . . .

Not about my obvious outside appearance . . .

Or what kind of image I project . . .

But the me I seldom show.

But then, how can you know who I really am . . .

When you might not understand . . .

My secret hopes and ambitions?

Or my thoughts . . .

about what life means to me.

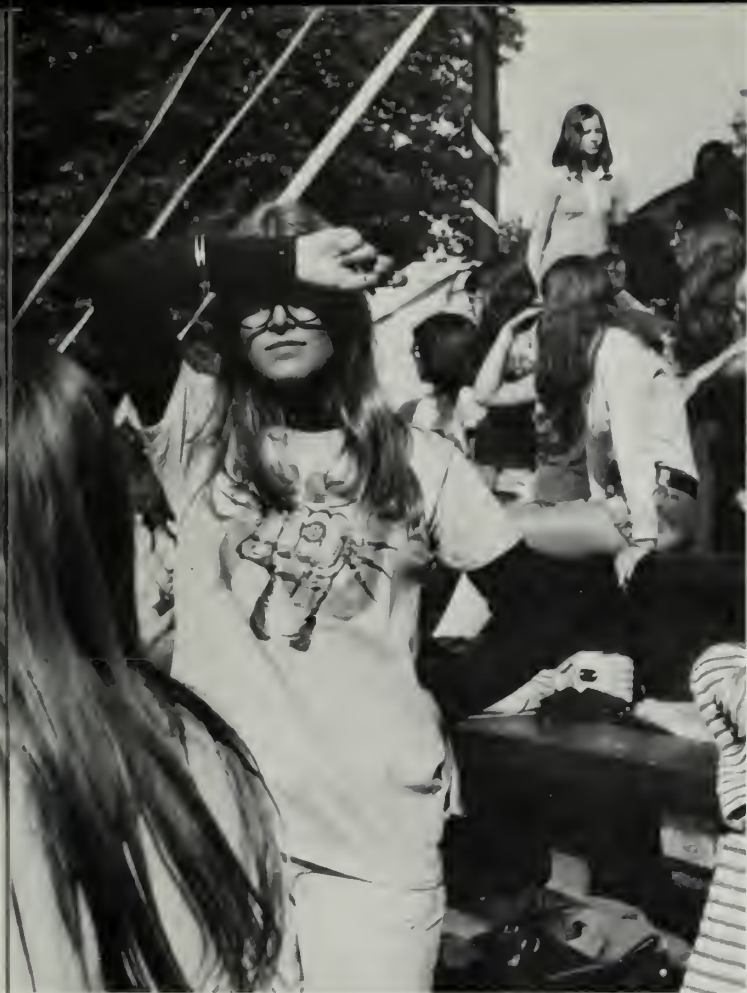

I hide these feelings from other people . . .

Afraid of what they might think or say.

Let me

see you . . .

touch you . . .

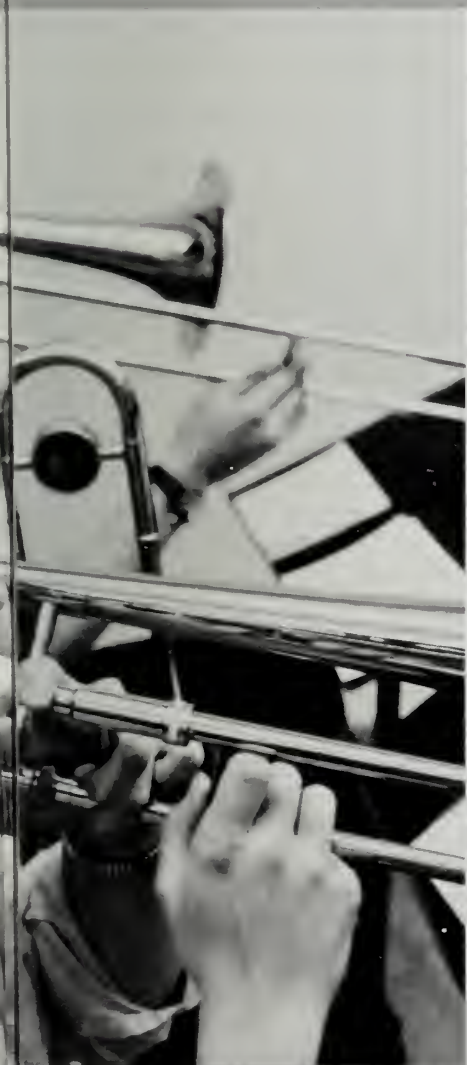

talk to you . . .

So that you might begin to understand . . .

Who I am:

Dear Mr. Newcombe,

When we entered Fitchburg High School as sophomores, our class had great potential, but lacked the experience and leadership that was necessary for us to succeed. You have provided that experience and leadership and for this we are grateful. But this is not the only reason you have been an extraordinary class advisor. It is because we have always been able to talk to you and to know that you respected us and what we said that we dedicate our Boulder to you, Mr. Newcombe, our devoted advisor and trusted friend

Sincerely,

The Class of 1973

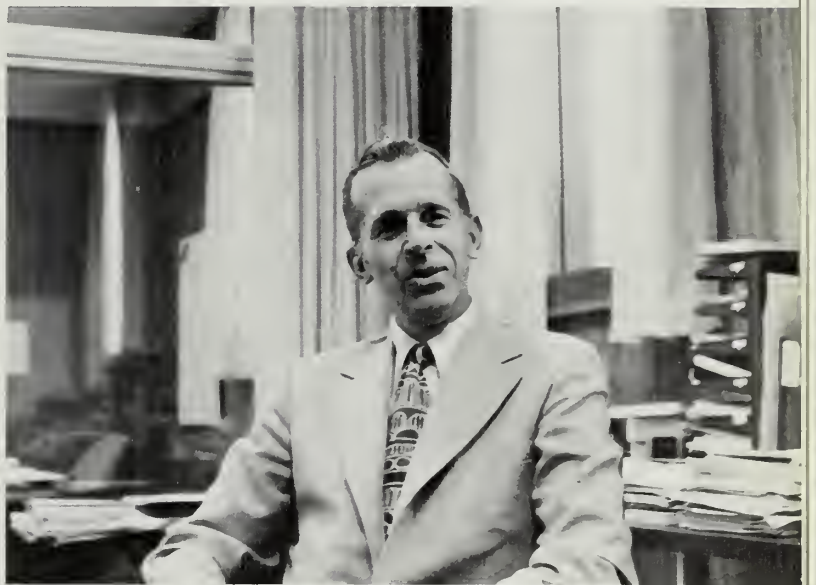

Stanley A. Goode
Principal

*Turo L. Hallfors
Acting Superintendent of Schools*

"My best wishes for your success and happiness as you graduate from Fitchburg High School! Your achievements as a class and as individuals are a part of the record and I join those close to you in the pride they have in your accomplishments.

What you will do in the years ahead will be determined by many factors, but you will most certainly discover that all of life is a learning process and that your graduation is but one step among many which will be part of your life's travel.

It is my hope that your school experience has given you a sense of the excitement of the future, the challenge of new things to be learned, an awareness of the happiness one finds in helping others, and most of all the ability to find PEACE within yourself and in your dealings with the people who will enrich your lives."

Business Department

"Business education today is not what it was ten years ago. Today business education is going towards what is now called 'Career Education.' Career education is a developmental process. It involves all students at all learning levels — not just a few 'exciting' students. It implies that the learning process must extend beyond the confines of the classroom. It must involve interaction among educators, the community, parents, and students."

"The most important reason for studying a foreign language today is that the student through a deeper and more involved study, will understand from a different perspective a new culture with its language, art, history, and music. Though the process is slow, such individual and eventually national efforts will bring about the long-awaited goal of world peace."

A Guidance Counselor believes that each person has inherent worth and that guidance services can help him to develop his potentialities more fully."

Library

"Especially now that there is a stress on independent study as opposed to rote learning, students are required to search out information rather than to memorize it. The library's main purpose is to provide the material that is necessary to find the information. To do this effectively, books must be brought up to date and multi-media services must be introduced."

"Algebra is the language of higher mathematics, modern science, and technology. Many problems would be difficult to solve if one were armed only with arithmetic. However, when translated into algebra, solutions become much easier. Algebra is a time-saving mathematical device. More should study it."

The Industrial Arts Department includes a variety of courses to interest the student. If he wishes to be an engineer, he will find technical drawing most helpful. He can also understand "working" drawings through mechanical drawing. To become familiar with the techniques used in industry, he can get involved in the graphic arts course where he will have an opportunity to explore photography within the year. The department also provides the student with the knowledge of machines and safety procedures through the woodworking course.

Through working on such challenging projects as preparing the showcase in the lobby, working at the concession stands during football games, and annually holding a successful Thanksgiving Dance, the D.E.C.A. students gain a sense of responsibility and practical experience for a future career.

Music Department

Each concert and half time show that the music department puts on requires dedicated and talented students as well as long hours of practice. But the annual musical production requires even more dedication, talent, and effort. Through these activities the members of the band, chorus, and cast, find self-fulfillment and achieve perfection. As one student put it, "The harder you work, the more rewarding it is."

Cross Country

The Cross Country team ran to a three wins and six losses record. Two seniors, Ray Haaker and Mike Mulloy, led the team with superb performances, especially against St. Bernards and Nashua. The team's greatest assets were their sportsmanship and enthusiasm.

Before the meet, Coach Koutonen explains the layout of the course.

In a surprising upset, disappointed Ray Haaker finishes 3rd in the meet with Keene.

Indoor Track

Indoor track is not just a demanding athletic activity, but is a rich emotional experience as well. It reveals to its participants an inner strength of which they were not previously aware. The strength to endure and ultimately triumph.

Does the solid black line mean no passing?

Girls' Swim Team

In his first year as coach of the Girl's Swim Team, Mr. Dunn faced a rather disappointing season of three wins and six losses. Despite this, the team was marked by a new, more unified spirit, as each girl thought less of her own performance and more of a win for the team.

No, I'm not the Chicken of the Sea!

If I don't get out of this water soon, I'll be just one big dishpan hand!

Jim takes the pass and sets up to shoot.

With a timely defensive move, Larry blocks the shot.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y — victory, victory, that's our cry!

Marty anticipates a block, and waits for an easy two points.

DiZuzio utilizes the fast break.

Legs are here!

At a crucial time, Coach Grutchfield's advice eases the tension.

Constant pressure from Notre Dame fails to stop the F.H.S. scoring drive.

The spirit and support of the crowd is a constant inspiration to the team.

Basketball

Basketball is a complex game that requires not only great athletic ability, but also a large amount of mental concentration. This year's basketball team has displayed both of these qualities led by seniors Jim Katon, Bill McIntosh, Gary Martines, and Mike LaSorsa and newcomer Joe DiZuzio, and provided a thrilling season for their fans.

Marty's rebounding skills prove valuable once again.

Hockey

Whether it was Brian Babineau making a spectacular save, Gary Linder scoring a goal, or Dave Secino covering a fast break, the Fitchburg High Hockey Team provided its fans with continuous action and many exciting wins.

As excitement builds, tempers flare.

Kurt winds up for a slap shot.

Swim by day, fly by night.

Okay, it's Mike's turn to collect the life jackets.

Flapping furiously, frivolous Finch flounders to a futile finish.

I wonder if Mark Spitz started like this?

Boys' Swim Team

"There are very few natural swimmers; the best will be the one who works the hardest." With these words of encouragement, Coach John Dunn inspires the members of the Boy's Swim Team to put up with sore muscles, mouthfuls of chlorinated water, seemingly endless numbers of laps, and practices at odd hours of the day.

A quiet self-confidence helps Steve to prepare for the backstroke competition.

Girls' Basketball

This year the girls' basketball team found themselves facing tough competition with a less experienced but more enthusiastic team than in previous years. The arrival of sophomores Kim Vandebroek, Karen Shaw, and Jane McNamara, plus key performances by veterans Debbie Bennett, Debbie Belliveau, and Donna Sevigny highlighted an otherwise disappointing season.

A high tap by Kim controls the ball for F.H.S.

With the help of Karen's rebounding, F.H.S. retains the ball.

At a crucial point, Coach Studley offers encouraging words.

Jane applies pressure in the hope of a St. Bernard's turnover.

Debbie looks down court for a clear pass.

Kneeling, L. to R. — D. Prince, L. Burgess, K. Shaw, D. Belliveau, D. Sevigny, D. Bennett, J. McNamara, P. Bates, C. Ruel, D. Allen.

Senior Reception to the Faculty

Best northern fried chicken I've ever had!

Hand over the money.

A friendly game of volleyball.

That's a proverbial home run.

The first event of our senior year provided an opportunity for students and faculty to enjoy each other's company. The reception began with a lot of activity. There were volleyball, softball, and touch football games, a chicken dinner, and a tug of war. Later that night a dance was scheduled, but almost immediately after it started, the dance was stopped. Despite this premature ending, the reception was a relaxing and thoroughly enjoyable evening.

I wish the guys would get out of the trees!

This'll be a strike for sure!

Silent thoughts

Sparkling conversation

Just close your eyes and think of me.

Far from the madding crowd

Competitive Plays

Each year a group of students interested in acting have the chance to become involved in the Competitive Plays. As representatives of their classes, these students have the objective of winning the competition. For the members of the class of 1973 the opportunities for participation were — "The Case of the Crushed Petunias," "Two Bottles of Relish," and "Lullaby." With an enthusiastic cast and the experience from the attempts of past years, our senior entry was rewarded with the ultimate win.

But Peggy, you can't really believe that story about the stork?

As members of the one-hundred and seventy-first graduating class of Fitchburg High School, we look back upon our school days with both joyful and sorrowful memories.

As sophomores, we came together not unified, and unprepared to work as a class. Sophomore year was a struggle, but junior year, we were too busy to look back. Making preparations for the prom, competitive plays, basketball game, and relay made us aware of true cooperation. Unity, which was once so far away, began to grow into something more realistic.

Suddenly our senior year was upon us. Tremendous victories in academic, athletic, and class competition proved to us that the unity we wished to achieve was finally ours. With this goal accomplished, however, we must still face a greater challenge: to be successful in life.

As your class officers, we sincerely hope that each of you will endeavor to achieve worthy goals, and that you will find self-fulfillment, happiness and success in the future.

PRESIDENT — IVY TIGS
VICE PRESIDENT — JAMES DIBENEDETTO
SECRETARY — CAROL MORIN
TREASURER — STEPHEN DIPASQUALE

President: Mark Fiorentino
Vice-President: Anne McNamara

Secretary: Janet LaBelle
Treasurer: Beth Capone

Advisor: Mr. Richard J. Lavers

We would like to express our sincere best wishes to you, the class of '74, for a satisfying and rewarding senior year.

In Memoriam to Miss Margaret Mary Mallahy and Mr. Edmund Ryan

It is with sincere sorrow that the Boulder recognizes the passing of two outstanding teachers who have left a legacy of love and dedication to their students.

*The continuity of life is never broken;
the river flows onward and is lost to our sight; but under its new horizon it carries the same waters which it gathered under ours, and its unseen valleys are made glad by the offerings which are borne down to them from the past, — flowers, perchance, the germs of which its own waves had planted on the banks of Time.*
